Dear Ruth,

Well I hope you are keeping quite alright, I am fine and enjoying myself as best I can. I haven't had any letters latter than August from home, so will be glad when our next mail arrives. I hope you are receiving mine alright. There is not much which I can say as I haven't any letters to answer, and nothing much has happened since I wrote last so I hope you won't mind if this is rather short, also that the writing isn't too good but we are rolling a lot now, and I have a job to keep on the stool which I'm sitting. I hope you have been able to get home quite a bit, also that you have seen Bern sometimes. I have been sewing all the afternoon, as I had quite a lot of things to mend. I hope you are able to get to Park Road and to C.E. now as I'm sure you will have some good times there, I have had to leave the place where I was going, so will have to find somewhere - else when I first get a chance I expect by the time this letter reaches you, it will be quite cold and perhaps you have had some snow. The people where I was got ever so excited because on top of a high mountain they saw a little snow, that's about all they see of it. Well I think that's about all I can say for now so ciao Ruth.

Best wishes & Much love
